

Secretary of Labor,
Complainant,

v.

Stolle Products, A Division of American
Trim,
Respondent.

OSHRC Docket No. 00-1471

APPEARANCES

Mary Anne Garvey, Esq.
Office of the Solicitor
U. S. Department of Labor
Cleveland, Ohio
For Complainant

John J. Krimm, Jr., Esq.
Robert D. Weisman, Esq.
Schottenstein, Zox & Dunn
Columbus, Ohio
For Respondent

Before: Administrative Law Judge Ken S. Welsch

DECISION AND ORDER

Stolle Products, a Division of American Trim (Stolle), operates a metal finishing plant in Sidney, Ohio. After an employee burned his legs in an acid tank on April 19, 2000, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) conducted an inspection of Stolle's anodizing department. OSHA's inspection resulted in Stolle receiving serious and "other" than serious citations on July 12, 2000. Stolle timely contested the citations.

A hearing was held on January 11, 2001, in Dayton, Ohio.

On March 20, 2001, an executed stipulation and settlement agreement was received from the parties. The settlement having been considered, it is ORDERED:

1. That the terms of the settlement are approved and incorporated herein as part of this order;
2. That the citations and proposed penalties are vacated, amended and affirmed in accordance with the terms of the settlement and a total penalty in the amount of $9,200 is assessed; and

